

TRANSITION TO TRADES

Moving troops from serving to service.

LEARN AND EARN —WHILE YOU SERVE—

In just 30 days, you can train for a successful career as an HVAC, Plumbing, or Electrical Service Tech — while you keep earning your military paycheck.

Want to be ready for a successful civilian career? We're ready to help — at no cost to you.

Thinking “what’s next after my military service?” Think about Transition to Trades. Our approved career skills program is now training active duty military service members for new futures in solid, respected, and well-paying careers as HVAC service technicians, plumbers, and electricians.

Better yet, we’re training at no cost. And we’re training efficiently: after just 30 days of class and lab time, you can be ready for a plumbing/electrical service apprenticeship, or have your HVAC EPA service license.

Finally? When you graduate, you’re guaranteed an interview with one of this region’s leading home-services providers, or with a respected service contractor in your home state. So let’s get going!

Why Transition to Trades?

- Short program: 30 days, M-F
- Half-day schedule - 7:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
- Train for 1, 2, or all 3 skills in individual 30 day sessions
- Do your training and “right-side-rides” while you’re still in the military
- We specialize in hands-on training: 80% of your class time is in state-of-the-art-labs
- No out-of-pocket costs
- Transportation provided daily
- HVAC certification qualifies you for work nationwide (EPA certification)
- Plumbing and Electrician courses qualify you as an apprentice
- Solid career future: There’s high demand for professional technicians
- State-of-the-art training with the latest equipment, tools, and technology
- Employment opportunities await you upon graduation, and guaranteed interviews will be set up for you
- If hired, entitled to BAH (basic allowance for housing) from the VA’s GI Bill during your apprenticeship program, if you so choose
